

PRINCIPLES OF MANAGEMENT

LEONOR B. FISCHER

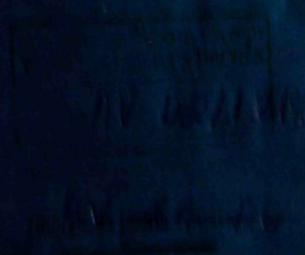

University of
Central Florida

DAVID L. KURTZ

Seattle University

PANTOM HOUSE
BUSINESS DIVISION
NEW YORK

Part one An introduction to management

1 An overview 3

- What is management? 7
- The functions of management 8
- Applying the functions of management 8
- Management concepts have universal application 11
- Managing a nonprofit organization 12
- The managerial hierarchy 14
- Managers—a capsule profile 16

- Management: an art? a science? 17
- Approaches to management theory 18
- Summary 19

2 The framework for management 25

- The historical framework for management 30
- The organizational framework for management 41
- The environmental framework for management 44
- The technological framework for management 47
- Summary 50

Part two The functions of management

3 The role of objectives 59

- Objectives guide the organization 63
- Goals versus objectives 63
- Objectives improve organizational effectiveness 64
- How many objectives? 65
- Hierarchy of objectives 68
- Characteristics of sound goals 69
- Management by objectives 71
- Summary 76

4 Planning 81

- Planning—a crucial function in every organization 85
- What is planning? 86
- The importance of planning 89
- Types of plans 91
- The importance of strategic planning 99

- Forecasting—critical planning ingredient 104
- Organizing the planning function 108
- Time management—ensuring that managers have time to plan 110
- Summary 112

5 Organizing for effective action 119

- Managers and the organization 123
- What is organizing? 123
- Division of work 124
- Concepts of coordination 129
- Authority relationships 130
- Line and staff relationships 134
- Organizational design 136
- The impact of work schedules on the organization 138
- Summary 140

6 The staffing process and human resources management 145

- The importance of human resources management 145
- Human resources planning 152
- Legal considerations in human resources management 156
- The selection process 159
- Training and development 164
- Performance appraisal 169
- Compensation and employee benefits 171
- Promotions, transfers, and separations 174
- Summary 177

7 Motivation: individual and group behavior 185

- The concept of motivation 187
- Theories of individual behavior 187
- Maslow's hierarchy of needs 188
- McClelland's achievement, affiliation, and power needs theory 191
- Hersberg's two-factor theory of motivation 192
- B. F. Skinner—modifying operant behavior 194
- Expectancy theory 196
- Theories of group behavior 196
- The Hawthorne studies and the human relations school 196
- The human resources model 199
- Whyte's contribution to the study of group behavior 200
- The research by Seashore 201
- The role of equity theory and reference groups 203
- Informal group leaders 203
- Morale and productivity 203
- Money as a motivator 206
- Problems and constraints in applying motivation theory 206
- Summary 208

8 Leadership theory and style 215

- The concept of power 219
- Leadership style 220
- Type of leadership and related management assumptions 222
- Early leadership theories 225
- Factors affecting leadership style 228
- The development of contingency leadership theory 232
- The path-goal theory of leadership 235
- Black and female leadership behavior 236
- A continuing research need 237
- Summary 237

9 The role of communication in effective management 245

- What is communication? 248
- Communication roadblocks 251
- Avoiding the roadblocks to effective communication 254
- Communication within a group 257
- Channels of communication 261
- Formal channels 262
- Informal channels 266
- Communication and motivation 268
- Communication and leadership 268
- Summary 269

10 Controlling: evaluating individual and organizational performance 275

- What is controlling? 279
- Achieving effective control 281
- Types of controls 286
- Characteristics of effective controls 288
- Tools of control in the organization 290
- Evaluating performance 302
- Management audits 303
- Effects of control on the individual 304
- Summary 306

Part three Managerial decision making

11 Applying systems thinking to management 313

Thinking in terms of systems 317

What is a system? 317

Open and closed systems 321

Characteristics of open systems 324

Decision making and the systems approach 325

Summary 326

What is the scientific method? 368

Quantitative analysis: advantages and limitations 369

The role of models in operations research 373

Quantitative approaches to decision making 377

Quantitative tools for decision making 381

Applying quantitative techniques 391

Summary 392

12 The decision-making process 329

What is decision making? 333

Types of decisions 333

How good should the decision be? 337

Steps in decision making 339

Group decision making and the use of committees 362

An applied approach to decision making 354

Summary 356

14 Management information systems: institutionalizing the decision-making process 397

What is a management information system? 401

Management information categories 403

Components of the MIS 404

Role of the computer in management information systems 407

Bases for comparing information systems 409

Characteristics of successful information systems 411

Constructing an information system 414

Summary 416

13 Quantitative techniques in management decision making 363

Operations research—quantitative techniques for management decisions 367

Part four Further perspectives

15 Management of the production function 423

What is production? 427

Relationship of production to other areas 428

The importance of production 428

Basic types of production systems 429

Establishing production systems 430

Site selection 433

Physical layout 436

Job design 439

Production control 441

Inventory control 446

Quality control 448

Summary 460

---

16 International management 455

- The evolution of international management 459
- Environmental differences affecting international management 463
- The basic functions of international management 470
- International management—the authors' viewpoint 479
- Summary 480

17 Social responsibility and executive behavior 485

- What is social responsibility? 489
- Three historical phases of management's social responsibility 490
- Management ethics 491
- Selected viewpoints on management's social responsibility 493

- Levels of social responsibility 496
- Cultural matching programs: an emerging trend in corporate philanthropy 499
- Industrial democracy 800
- Measuring social responsibility 504
- Summary 506

18 Managing change and organization development 513

- Resistance to change 517
- The process of change 520
- The impact of change on the organizational structure and decision making 524
- Organization development 525
- Precedents for organization development 526
- The emergence of the OD concept 527
- Contemporary approaches to organization development 528
- Summary 534

---

Part five Your future in management

19 Anticipating the future of management 541

- Predictions of future trends often go astray 545
- The changing nature of change itself 547
- Future uncertainty makes effective planning vital to managers 550
- Trends and countertrends 551
- The future manager 553
- Summary 556

20 Careers in management 561

- The job search process 565
- Employment trends in management 571
- Strategies for career advancement 573
- When opportunity knocks 581
- Obstacles to achieving managerial career objectives 582
- Outplacement—finding a new position for the dismissed executive 587
- Retirement and other end-of-career options 588
- Career planning for women and minorities 589
- Summary 591

---

Glossary 597

Name Index 603

Subject Index 604

Managerial incidents

---

- THE NEW SCHOOL FOR DEMOCRATIC
MANAGEMENT 23
- NO ONE WANTED TO HELP HALOID
COMPANY 56
- THE CORPORATE OBJECTIVES OF RALSTON
PURINA COMPANY 79
- OLIN'S SHIFT TO STRATEGIC PLANNING 117
- HOW NOT TO ORGANIZE THE WHITE
HOUSE 144
- MATCHING MANAGERS WITH CORPORATE
STRATEGIES 181
- BOMAC INDUSTRIES 213
- DAVID MAHONEY SETS THE LEADERSHIP
STYLE AT NORTON SIMON, INC. 244
- AT NATIONAL CAN, COMMUNICATION COMES
AND GOES IN ALL DIRECTIONS 274
- THE TRACK RECORD OF ZERO-BASED BUDGETING 309
- SYSTEMS APPROACH TO SOCIAL PROBLEMS 328
- THE BIRTH OF TV GUIDE 361
- THE NEW YORK CITY EMERGENCY
AMBULANCE SERVICE 396
- WEST AMERICAN HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION 419
- IMPROVING WHITE-COLLAR PRODUCTIVITY 464
- A LAW THAT HAS A BROAD IMPACT ON
INTERNATIONAL MANAGEMENT 484
- GOODYEAR'S PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO A
STUDENT GROUP 512
- GUIDELINES FOR CHANGE AT VOLVO 537
- HOWARD JOHNSON LOOKS AT THE FUTURE 560
- J. PAUL LYET CAME A LONG WAY FROM
BREWERTOWN 596