Social Science Research Methods

Bruce A. Chadwick
Howard M. Bahr
Stan L. Albrecht
all Brigham Young University
Preface xi

1 KNOWLEDGE, SCIENCE, AND RESEARCH 1

Introduction 2
Knowledge 3
Scientific Method 6
Limits of Scientific Observation 10
Research And Theory 14
Ethics of Doing Research with Human Subjects 15
Why Do Research? 20
Summary 22
References 23

2 RESEARCH DESIGN 25

Introduction 26
Selecting Problems to Research 28
Collecting Data by Interview: An Illustrative Example 128
Summary 130
References 132

SURVEY RESEARCH QUESTIONNAIRE STUDIES 134

Introduction 135
Advantages of Survey by Questionnaire 137
Disadvantages of Survey by Questionnaire 138
Doing a Survey by Questionnaire 139
An Illustrative Example: Equality of Educational Opportunity 153
Summary 160
References 162

EXPERIMENTAL RESEARCH 163

Introduction 164
Types of Experiments 166
Strengths and Weaknesses of Experimental Research 167
Experimental Subjects 171
Steps of Experimental Research 174
Illustrative Experiments 187
Summary 202
References 203

QUALITATIVE RESEARCH 205

Introduction 206
Strengths of Qualitative Research 211
Problems of Qualitative Research 212
Design of Qualitative Research 215
Doing Qualitative Research 218
Illustrative Examples 225
Summary 235
References 236
Summary 341
References 342

13 ANALYZING DATA 344

Introduction 345
Coding 346
Data Entry 356
Descriptive Analysis 358
Cross-tabulation and Contingency Tables 367
Testing Relationships between Variables 369
Indexing and Scaling 384
Summary 387
References 388

14 WRITING ABOUT RESEARCH 390

Introduction 391
The Information Explosion 392
In Defense of Social Science Writing 393
Writing as Scientific Creativity 397
Three Basic Issues in Writing 399
The Process of Writing 402
Summary 405
References 405

15 THE UTILIZATION OF SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH 408

Introduction 409
Some Uses of Social Science Research 411
Social Science Research and National Policy Making 412
Barriers to Social Research Utilization 416
Social Research and the Individual Consumer 423
Summary 429
References 430

Glossary 433
Index 445