

1987

ACCOUNTING

AN INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVE

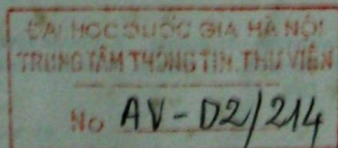

Third Edition

A Supplement to Introductory Accounting Textbooks

Gerhard G. Mueller
University of Washington

Helen Gernon
University of Oregon

Gary K. Meek
Oklahoma State University

IRWIN

Burr Ridge, Illinois
Boston, Massachusetts
Sydney, Australia

C O N T E N T S

Chapter 1	An International Perspective on Financial Accounting	1
	Accounting and the Environment	1
	Variables Shaping Accounting Development	3
	Relationship between Business and the Provider(s) of Capital	3
	Political and Economic Ties with Other Countries	5
	Legal System	6
	Levels of Inflation	6
	Size and Complexity of Business Enterprises, Sophistication of Management and the Financial Community, and General Levels of Education	7
	Accounting Clusters	8
	British-American Model	8
	Continental Model	11
	South American Model	11
	Mixed Economy Model	11
	Emerging Models	12
	Accounting in Communist Countries	12
Chapter 2	Diversity in Financial Accounting Practices	17
	Reducing Diversity within Countries	17
	Why Financial Accounting Practices Differ between Countries	19
	Some Existing Practice Differences	20
	Goodwill	22
	Pensions	23
	Recognition of Inflation and Other Price Changes	24
	Consequences of Worldwide Accounting Diversity	29
	Corporate Management	29
	Investors	30
	Accounting Professionals and Regulators	30

Chapter 3	Harmonization of Financial Accounting Diversity	35
	Accounting and Auditing Standards	35
	U.S. Organizations	36
	Pros and Cons of International Accounting and Auditing Standards	37
	International Organizations	38
	International Accounting Standards Committee	39
	International Federation of Accountants	41
	United Nations	43
	Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development	43
	Regional Organizations	44
	European Community	44
	Other Regional Organizations	46
	Harmonization Scenarios	46
Chapter 4	Financial Reporting in the International Environment	52
	Responses by Users	53
	Responses by Multinational Corporations	56
	Do Nothing	56
	Prepare Convenience Translations	57
	Prepare Convenience Statements	57
	Restate on a Limited Basis	58
	Prepare Secondary Financial Statements	60
	Whose Accounting Principles?	60
	Beware the Foreign Financial Statement	63
Chapter 5	Disclosure Practices around the World	69
	Financial and Nonfinancial Disclosure	70
	Some Observations about Disclosure	71
	Examples of Disclosure	72
	Geographic Area and Product Line Disclosures	72
	Financial Forecast Disclosures	77
	Information about Shares and Shareholders	77
	The Value Added Statement	80
	Employee Disclosures	80
	Environmental Disclosures	84
Chapter 6	Multinational Consolidations and Foreign Currency Translation	92
	The Basic Idea	92
	An International Perspective on Consolidated Financial Statements	94

	Foreign Currency Translation	96
	Exchange Rates	97
	The Problem with the Current Rate Method	97
	The Problem with the Temporal Method	98
	Translation Methods Used	99
Chapter 7	International Financial Statement Analysis	108
	Financial Accounting Reflects the Environment It Serves	108
	A Framework for Financial Statement Analysis	109
	Environmental Variables	109
	Cultural Values	109
	Accounting Values	110
	Analysis of Financial Information	112
	Timeliness, Language, Terminology, and Format	112
	Ratio Analysis	115
	Nippon Yusen Kabushiki Kaisha 1992	116
Chapter 8	Accounting Information Systems for Multinational Corporations	124
	MNC Organization Affects the Accounting Information System	125
	Forms of Organization	125
	Attitudes, Organization, and Control	127
	Exporting the Domestic Accounting Information System	130
	MNC Characteristics Affect the Accounting Information System	132
	Transnational Organizational Capability	132
Chapter 9	Strategic Planning and Control in the International Environment	137
	Components of the MNC Planning and Control Systems	138
	Environmental Assessment Phase	138
	Subsidiary Assessment Phase	139
	Objective-Setting Phase	139
	Formulation-of-Standards Phase	139
	Operational Phase	139
	Evaluation Phase	140
	Integration of the Phases of the Planning and Control Systems	140
	The Financial Communication Problem	141
	Differences in Measurement and Disclosure Practices	141
	Ease of Communication	142
	Financial and Operating Information for Internal Reporting	142
	Goal Congruence	143