

Book: The World Economics and Politics in 2006 and Prospects for 2007

Author: Nguyen Xuan Thang, Nguyen Hong Son (co-editor)

Publisher: Publishing House of Social Sciences

Publishing year: 2007

Published location: Hanoi

Size: 14.5 x 20.5cm

Number of pages: 249

The book introduces a deep analysis of the world economics and politics in 2006-2007. Then, it gives recommendations to develop Vietnam's economy based on the development features and trends of the world economics and politics in 2006. The book also forecasts how the world economy and politics will change in 2007 and challenges for Vietnam.

The book has main contents as follows:

1. The key features and development trends of the world economy in 2006 in 2006.
2. The major features and development trends of the world politics in 2006.
3. Forecasts of the world economic and politic situations in 2007 (the major features and development trends).

4. Challenges that Vietnam is facing from the perspective of the world economics and politics. And it is followed by several recommendations of Vietnam's policy.

Besides, the book has appendices about the economics of several countries around the world in 2006 and prospects for 2007 such as United States, Japan, Euro area, China, India, and ASEAN; Some features of Vietnam's economy in 2006 and development indexes for 2007; the world economics and Vietnam's foreign economic relations including various tables to illustrate the statements mentioned in the chapters, and they are systematical data updated yearly to help the researchers and individuals interested in the world economics to have more data for analysis, projection and reference.